

CONSULAR REPORT OF BIRTH ABROAD OF A UNITED STATES CITIZEN

If your child was born outside of the United States and you believe he/she is a U.S. citizen, your first step is to apply for the child's Consular Report of Birth Abroad. This document serves as proof of U.S. citizenship and is generally a prerequisite for the issuance of a U.S. passport. Although applications are accepted up until the child's 18th birthday, you should apply for your child's Consular Report of Birth Abroad as soon after his/her birth as practical. Applications submitted years after the child's birth may take significant time to resolve because evidence to prove the child's citizenship may be difficult to obtain. In some delayed cases it may be impossible to establish the child's citizenship.

WARNING: Please make sure you have ALL of your application forms completely filled out and ALL the required documentation at hand when you arrive for your appointment. Otherwise, you will be turned away and you will have to schedule a new appointment, which normally requires a wait of approximately a month.

To process a child's claim to U.S. citizenship, the U.S. parent must establish that s/he is the biological parent, present proof of sufficient physical presence in the U.S., and present evidence to confirm the child's identity. In certain cases, the Consular Officer may require additional documentation, and the applicant has 90 days to submit it. After the 90-day period if the applicant has not responded, the application will be denied and sent to the U.S. Department of State. Once your application has been denied, if you choose to continue with the process of transmitting citizenship to your child, you will need to schedule a new appointment, submit a new application along with supporting documents and new fees must be paid.

WARNING: False statements made knowingly and willfully in passport applications or affidavits or other supporting documents are punishable by fine and/or imprisonment under the provisions of 18 USC 1001 and/or 18 USC 1542.

If you apply at the Consular Section of the U.S. Embassy in Tegucigalpa:

- An appointment will be required to submit the application.
- To schedule an appointment go to:
<https://evisaforms.state.gov/acs/default.asp?postcode=TGG&appcode=1>
- Certificates will be issued in approximately two weeks. They may be picked up at the Consular Section from Monday to Friday between the hours of 8:00 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. or received by Cargo Expreso.

If you apply at the Consular Agency in San Pedro Sula:

- Applications may be submitted Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 12:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m.
- All applications accepted in San Pedro Sula are processed at the U.S. Embassy in Tegucigalpa and, if approved, they will be returned by Cargo Expreso in approximately four weeks.
- The Consular Officer may require a personal interview at the U.S. Embassy in Tegucigalpa.

THE FOLLOWING DOCUMENTS SHOULD BE SUBMITTED AT THE TIME OF THE APPLICATION.

1. Translations: All foreign language documents must be translated.

2. Honduran Birth Certificate in Literal Form (see sample attached). We do not accept the green and white fill-in-the-blank type of birth certificates normally issued by the Registro Nacional de Personas (RNP), as they do not contain complete information. This certificate must be an original.

3. Parents' Marriage Certificate. This certificate must be an original. Certified copies are accepted if issued in the U.S.

4. Evidence of Dissolution of Previous Marriages. If applicable, divorce decrees or death certificates from any prior marriages of either parent should be presented. These certificates should be originals. Certified copies are only accepted if issued in the U.S.

5. Evidence of Parents' U.S. Citizenship. U.S. passport, U.S. birth certificate, U.S. naturalization certificate (if issued prior to child's birth).

6. Proof of Identification of the Non-U.S. Parent. I.D. card or passport.

7. Proof of Biological Parentage: In order to transmit citizenship to your child, you must prove the blood relationship between yourself and the child for whom you are applying. In order to do so you may wish to submit the following documentation:

- Parents' previous passports.
- Honduran Immigration Movement.
- Pre-natal and post-natal family photos that include the mother, father and child.
- Pre-natal medical records.
- DNA testing, if you are otherwise unable to prove biological parentage. However, if you are interested in this option you must first be interviewed by a Consular Officer. Any DNA testing done outside of the approved process will not be considered.

8. Child's Identification: Photos, school diplomas, previous passports, or any other documentation that bears the child's name and photo. Must be originals.

9. Physical Presence in the United States. The Immigration and Nationality Act specifies that in order to transmit citizenship to a child, the U.S. citizen parent must have been physically present in the United States for a specific amount of time prior to the child's birth.

- If both parents are U.S. citizens:
One of the parents needs to present proof that he/she resided in the United States or its outlying possessions before the child's birth. No specific period of residence is required.
- If the American citizen mother was a single mother at the time of her child's birth:

She needs to present proof of physical presence in the United States for one continuous year at some point prior to the child's birth.

- If only one of the parents is an American citizen:
 - and the child was born before November 14, 1986: the American citizen would have to present proof that s/he was physically present in the United States or its outlying possessions for a period or periods totaling not less than ten years prior to the child's birth, at least five of which were after the age of fourteen.
 - and the child was born after November 14, 1986: the American citizen would have to present proof that s/he was physically present in the United States or its outlying possessions for a period or periods totaling not less than five years prior to the child's birth, at least two of which were after the age of fourteen.

10. Proof of Physical Presence in the United States.

- As proof of physical presence you may submit: A Consular Report of Birth Abroad previously issued to a sibling of the child in question, high school transcripts, college or university transcripts, employment letters, 1040 Income Tax forms along with the W-2 form, and military records.
- The following documents are NOT considered sufficient proof of Physical Presence in the United States: 1040 Income tax forms without the W-2, Social Security earning statements, driver's licenses, or bank statements, as you do not need to be physically present in the United States for a specific amount of time in order to report, file or obtain these documents.
- If you were a seaman prior to your child's birth: Only the time spent in U.S. "Coastal Waters" are counted as physical presence in the United States. "Coastal" voyages are those between ports in the same State or adjacent States, which usually do not go outside the 3-mile limit of the territorial sea. Time spent on voyages defined as "Foreign" or "Coastwise" (those from one U.S. port to another in a non-adjacent State in which the vessel travels outside U.S. territorial waters) are not considered physical presence in the United States. As proof you may submit: your seaman's discharge records, a letter from your employer detailing the type of waters in which you travelled, U.S. Coast Guard records, or any other type of documentation that shows the type of water in which you travelled.
- If you don't have sufficient Physical Presence in the U.S. in order to transmit citizenship: Please complete a signed statement that states the following:

I hereby acknowledge that I do not have sufficient physical presence in the United States in order to transmit citizenship to my child (name of child).

11. Application Forms. You must download application forms. Please use black ink when completing the form.
